from their royal majesties

Unto Their Excellencies Alexander and Mardanah and the mighty Barony of Unser Hafen do Bela and Claudia, by right of arms and grace and favor, King and Queen of the Outlands send greetings.

We have returned home from Our travels to the distant lands of Aethelmarc where We enjoyed visiting with old friends and made several new ones as well. Eventhough We were out of Kingdom We were still very focused on Our homelands and the things that needed tending to here. Foremost on Our minds was the future of Unser Hafen.

We would like to thank the gentle folk of the Barony for coming out to the polling and imparting your words unto Us. We would also like to thank the candidates for being willing to step up and lead the Barony into the future. We understand very well that being the Coronet of a group is no easy task and We are very appreciative that capable people were willing to take on that role.

At this time We would like to announce that at the Newcomers event We will invest Sir Samuel de Grace as the next Baron of Unser Hafen. We hope that he will enjoy his time as the Coronet of Unser Hafen as much as We have enjoyed Our time as Crown.

In Service to the Outlands,

Bela
King

Claudia
Queen

from the next baron

Greetings unto the Populace of Unser Hafen,

I am deeply moved by your support during the polling and look forward to your continued support in moving the Barony forward to solidify our bonds in being members of this fine Barony and further aid our Kingdom by a strong show of helping hands in making our Barony the finest the Outlands has ever seen. It is with us, one and all, that this barony will strive to ensure its lasting future and increase our renown by our fine deeds and solidarity.

Yours in Service,
Sir Samuel de Grac'e

From the Seneschal

Greetings Unser Hafen!

August was a busy month for our fair Barony! I would like to express my great appreciation to all those who helped ensure events, meetings, and demos all went smoothly. Great admiration to THL Nickolaos and Lady Ekatrina for their positive focus and effort as candidates for Baron and Baroness. We all benefit from their service to the dream! Worthy candidates, all. Congratulations to Sir Samuel who has been selected by Their Royal Majesties as the next Baron of Unser Hafen.

This month we participated in three major demos: The New West Fest, Fall Bazaar at UNC, and the Student Involvement Fair at CSU. Thank you to everyone who gave their time and energies to help the Barony grow. An upcoming demo, we have not given enough attention to, is the Scottish Festival in Estes Park on September 9th and 10th, if you are interested in helping at that demo, contact Lord Liam or THL Colb'an.

For the demos in August, I created a list of all activities and events our Barony planned for September. The list was long - and did not include everything! Be sure to check the website for the latest information and plan to come join us for fun! For example, if you haven't been to Open Arms, you have missed the great atmosphere Lady Helene and Lady Gabriella offer. Our September Populace will be held there on September 7th. Dance practices will be at the Lory Student Center at CSU on the 11th and 25th. Fighter practices in Greeley are on Wednesday evenings, in Fort Collins on Sunday afternoons. Newcomers and Baronial Investiture will be on September 30th at Summit View Church on West Drake in Fort Collins. Be sure to mark you calendars for that Event as we will have a full day of activities for all areas of interest! Again, check the website for updated details. (Remember, this will be the Baronial A&S Championship!)

Stags Con is coming up in early October. This year it will be in al-Barran (Albuquerque). This event is for anyone who is an Officer OR anyone who is interested in becoming an Officer. Several of us are planning to travel down there together. Feel free to contact me if you are interested in carpooling with us! Speaking of the Officer Core, our business meetings are open to the Populace, please come join us if you have time. We rotate meetings between Fort Collins/LaPorte, Loveland, and Greeley to share the driving. This month's meeting will be held at my house in LaPorte on September 21st.

Hope to see you soon Good Gentle!

Recommending someone for an award

By THLord Nikolaos Demetriou ho Toxotes, with many thanks to various sources found on Stefan's Florlegium

Anyone can recommend someone for an award, but relatively few actually do it. Even fewer do it effectively.

It sounds easy at first - just write an award recommendation letter to the Crown (or Coronet if it is a Baronial award) telling them what you think that person should get. Writing recommendations is easy... As long as you keep a few things in mind.

Your letter should be a clear, concise and convincing case on which the Crown or ruling nobles can make a decision; and feel comfortable making this decision about someone they have likely never met. A bit of preparation prior to writing the actual recommendation makes this a nearly effortless task. Some thoughts on this process follow.

I. What makes a candidate deserve an award?
I believe Sir William of Weir (of Ansteorra) put it best when asked the question "How do you become a knight?"

> First you have to become a knight. Once everybody knows that you are already a knight, they will put a white belt around you. They put white belts around knights.

This applies to any award. People who get awards do not get them because of what they might do. They have already earned it, and they have earned it consistently for some period of time.

II. Why do you think the candidate deserves an award?
What brought the candidate to your attention? There are three things I look for:

- Actions - What has the candidate done, not only recently, but on an ongoing basis? Are focused solely on their favorite activity to the exclusion of all else, or do they participate more generally.
- Aptitude - Is the candidate good at what they do? Are they a natural, or do they have to work at it? (Having to work at something isn't bad at all! It tells you a lot about the character of the person.)
- Attitude - Does the candidate display their skill with grace and humility? Does the candidate share their knowledge and time in good spirit, or just to be noticed? Does the candidate take charge? If they are leading, do they lead well? Do they keep a good sense of humor?

As I said, these are the things I look for. Opinions vary... As they should.

III. Which award does the candidate deserve?

Before you can answer this question, it is a good idea to know what awards are available in your Kingdom, and what they are given for. You can look at each award's charter online, or ask a local officer for the information. Knowing the award structure of your Barony and Kingdom helps you make the right choice. Do not be surprised if the award that ends up being granted is different than what you recommended.

It is also a good idea to find out what awards, if any, the candidate already has. Your letter will also be more helpful if you include the person's prior relevant awards, and it also help to make sure you are not recommending them for something they already have. This is where the Kingdom Order of Precedence comes in handy. Please remember that the O.P. is usually a few months behind.

You can also, if you choose, submit the award recommendation without a specific award in mind. Less-focused recommendations still do work, but they should be that much more convincing and informative so the Crown can make an informed choice.

You can find the Outlands Order of Precedence and information on awards at http://wimble.outlandsheralds.org/

A final thought: while anyone can recommend someone for most awards, some awards are personal "thankyous" from the Crown/Coronet. It would be presumptuous of someone else to recommend the candidate for such an award. The Queen's Cypher and the Cordon Royale come immediately to mind.

IV. What not to do.

- Don't gripe if the person does not receive the award. If the candidate does not get the award, recommend them again in six months with an updated letter.
- Don't tell the candidate you've recommended them! Don't tell the candidate you think they should have the award, either. Not only is this rude (and potentially embarrassing if the candidate doesn't receive it), but it may cause the candidate to start fixating on the award, and not on having fun.
- Don't use petitions. If others believe as you do about a candidate, they should write their own personalized letters.

V. What to do.

When writing your recommendation:

- Find out how the Crown/Coronet wishes to receive recommendations. Do they accept them via email? Regular mail? Do they have a specific form they wish to be used instead of a letter? We are lucky that in the Outlands there is a form on the web (http://www.outlands.org/awardrec/index.aspx), but only a few Baronies have an award form set up.
- Clearly identify the candidate in the letter by SCA name, mundane name and SCA group. Make sure of the spelling of the candidate's SCA name. If their name has been registered, it is easy to verify online or by asking your local herald.
- If possible, see if the candidate is a member. SCA membership is required to receive most awards in the Outlands.
- Write in clear straightforward sentences. You don't need to write in a courtly manner, just be clear and respectful. Try to keep the letter to one page, and write separate letters for each recommendation.
- Be specific about the candidate's accomplishments. Remember, you are not making the argument that the candidate deserves the award, their actions are. Show how the candidate has affected the local group/kingdom/society. Write the letter as if the Crown/Coronet had never heard of the candidate.
- If the candidate has had a real or perceived problem in the past, mention it head-on and state how the candidate has addressed it.
- If possible, mention events that the candidate will attend in the next three to six months. It usually takes that long or longer for the Crown/Coronet to research the recommendation, make a decision and have the award scroll prepared.
- Proofread your letter after a few hours away from it.
- Date and sign the letter. Include your SCA and mundane names, and some contact information. Just like complaints, anonymous recommendations carry little weight.
- Cc their Royal Highnesses if they are known. It is quite possible Their Majesties already have all the award recommendations they can handle, and the upcoming rulers may handle yours.
- Keep a copy, preferably electronic, of your letter. If the original never arrives, or if you need to resubmit the recommendation later, it is much easier to update and send rather than recreate.

Here is an example letter: (found on Stefan's Florlegium; written by Ld. Lancelin, with slight updates)

Unto Their most Royal Majesties Frederick and Wilma, King and Queen of The Outlands, does Lord Gregory Ivanovitch recommend himself and send greetings!

Your Majesties, I write this day to recommend one of your subjects, Bronwyn the Industrious (mundanely known as Betty Boop), for an Award of Arms for service to the Canton of Nowheresville. Her member number is 129543.

Bronwyn has been a member of the SCA for two years and currently lives in the Canton of Nowheresville (Why is this a town, NM) within the Barony of the Rampant Platypus. She has been the Nowhereville Minister of Arts for the past six months and has done an excellent job. In addition, she has participated in almost every demo we have put on, and is constantly helping our members with garb and other projects.

Bronwyn will most likely be at "Push for Estrella" and "Revenge of the Platypus."

Thank You for Your kind attention! On this third day of June, Anno Societatis XXXXI, I remain

In Your Service,

Gregory
